

Weekly Roundup – March 26, 2021

Description

Recap important news, information, and what you may have missed this week.

Supreme Court Considers Limits Of Tribal Police Authority (USA Today)

The Supreme Court on Tuesday wrestled with a dispute over when Native American police officers may detain non-Native suspects, delving into thorny issues of tribal sovereignty that have vexed the federal government for generations.

A 'serious conversation': Lawmakers take another try at policing legislation (CNN)

Bipartisan discussions are underway as lawmakers try once again to find consensus for a bill to overhaul policing that can pass the United States Senate.

Poor leadership and management causing police 'mass exodus' (South Wales Argus)

POOR leadership and management is the main reason given for a “mass exodus” of police officers from the job, according to new research.

Virtual First Amendment Summit Schedule Release

The First Amendment Summit, providing law enforcement agencies with the confidence to respond in a constitutionally-minded manner, releases training schedule for upcoming online summit.

Date Created

03/26/2021